Sister Congratulations, Brian. You won!

Brian Won? What did I win?

Sister You won a complete makeover with Fashion Television. You send in a few pictures of yourself, and a picture of your closet. They pick someone each week to get a new haircut, a new wardrobe and, most importantly, they get rid of your ugly old clothes like those worn-out sneakers and that ugly sweatshirt.

Brian But … Fashion Television, I never heard of it. How could I win anything? I never sent in my pictures.

Sister Uh, well, no. Actually, I did.

Brian Really? Why? Are my clothes that bad?

Sister Yes, Brian. They are.

Man OK, ready everyone? Cameras rolling in five, four, three …

Tina Welcome to another edition of Fashion Disasters. Today we're in the closet of Brian Bean. Brian, welcome to today's show!

Brian	Thanks, Tina.
Tina	Brian, why did you cry out for fashion help?
Brian	Uh, actually, my sister sent in the photos.
Tina	And thank goodness she did! Brian you need help, help, help! Let's start with what you're wearing now. How long have you had your glasses?
Brian	Not so long. About three years.
Tina	They're three years out of fashion. And what about your sweatpants? They're ripped. Why did you throw them out?
Brian	They're so comfy.
Tina	And your sweatshirt? It looks kind of old.
Brian	Well, I guess so. Maybe a little old.
Tina	And your sneakers. When's the last time you got a new pair?
Brian	Oh, I've had these for years.
Tina	Yes, just like that suit in your closet. It's been quite a few years since that was in fashion. Does it still fit? And those ties with cartoon characters on them? Don't get me started! Brian, come this way …

Man	OK, ready everyone? Closet scene. Cameras rolling in five, four, three …
Tina	Brian! Tell us about your wardrobe. Which clothes have you not worn in the last year?
Brian	Well, I guess … this half.
Tina	Half the clothes in your closet! Well, that's an easy decision. They all have to go.
Brian	Can I keep my old belt?
Tina	The one with the giant gold buckle? Oh, no, no, no. It's already in the trash.
Brian	But, but …
Tina	No buts, Brian. You're a fashion disaster.

2.

Man	Hair salon scene. Cameras rolling …
Tina	Now we're at Heroes Hair Salon with Brian Bean. Brian, where do you usually get your hair cut?
Brian	Well, I do it myself – to save money. It's not that hard.
Tina	It's hard to look at. Franco? What can you do with this head of hair?
Franco	Well, first, the shape is wrong and it's too long. We need to add some highlights.

3.

Tina	The new hair looks good, but we're not done yet, Brian. Here are your new glasses! And look. New sunglasses, too!
Brian	They look good.
Tina	And I'm sure they feel great. Looking over your wardrobe, we saw lots of room for improvement. We decided to keep it simple. Here we have a black shirt, a white shirt and two striped shirts. These black pants and these jeans go perfectly with them. Everything here is the latest style, so you can mix and match and always be in fashion.

4.

Sister	Brian, great hair and I love the glasses, but aren't those your old sweatpants and sweatshirt?
Brian	Uh, yeah.
Sister	But, I thought the TV crew threw them out?
Brian	They did. But they were still in the garbage can. I got them back and my old belt, too.
Sister	I don't believe it!
Brian	Believe it. They're comfy.

Born and raised in Seoul, South Korea, Kwon Ji-yong began his singing career at the age of five. As a teen, Kwon Ji-yong discovered American hip-hop artists Wu Tang Clan and decided he wanted to try rapping. He joined a hip-hop duo who gave him the name "G-Dragon" because his original name "Ji" sounds like the English letter "G" and "Yong" is Korean for "dragon". After six years of training under YG entertainment, G-Dragon made his debut as the leader of the group Big Bang in 2006.

Big Bang's first release was a moderate success, selling 48,000 copies in Korea. Their breakthrough came with the release of their EP Always, which included the number one song "Lies". Since then, Big Bang has had a string of hits and continues to gain in popularity in Asia and the world. In April 2015, they kicked off a world tour that is expected to visit at least 15 countries, including China,

Japan and the United States.

As well as being the leader of Big Bang, G-Dragon also has a successful solo career and is a fashion icon who often influences fashion trends in South Korea. While promoting his solo album Heartbreaker in 2009, G-Dragon dyed his hair blonde. This gained popularity among his fans and went on to become one of the top hairstyles of the year. In addition, he often wears bandanas, which has become a trend with teenagers and are often called "Big Bang scarves". In 2008, G-Dragon won the Korean "Style Icon of 2008 Award" and 2015, he was selected as one of the Business of Fashion's 500 Global Fashion Leaders.
